Volume I, Number 1

October 8, 12th year Siva Kalpa

From The Publisher: The idea for a Family newsletter came to me in a blinding flash of light last Wednesday, after the food co-op. Why not get out a weekly sheet of news and opinion, fact and fantasy, open to everyone enjoying this period of Siva Kalpa, local, national and world-wide? After years of reading the S.F. Chronicle (regularly), the Siva Kalpa News (sporadically), the D.E.V.A. Newsletter, the continuing Hariyana, and the letters, proclamations, etc., etc., that pour through the Foundation headquarters at 59 Scott, the newspaper bug bit me. Speedy Gonzales is our printer. (Pancho Villa is our sponsor.) The first three issues will be mailed free to Foundation centers and others around the U.S. and the world, in hopes of getting some subscription orders (and copy) by October 27.

So here it is -- hope you like it. But more important, I hope you like the idea, and will support it with plenty of interesting and thrilling written communications, from wherever you happen to be on the planet Earth. I promise to include everything possible, given the limits of Time and money. We, His gods and goddesses, are Siva Kalpa, so don't hesitate -- recreate! BOM SHANKAR BHOLENATHI -- Love to you all -- John Morton.

"Always stick to Truth." Father.

REPORT FROM HEADQUARTERS

In 1970, 4th year Siva Kalpa, Father made one of his frequent visits to 110 Pierce Street, home of Phillip & Anna Lynn Dayton and Peter & Jane Hall. It was an unexpected 9 pm visit, and he had not brought Sarada and Shotsy, usually his constant companions. "Sarada and Shotsy are my experiments," he intimated to us. "I am a scientist, and I'm performing my experiments on them. I am going to create immortality. They are undergoing great pressure: watch them. If it works on them, it will work on the rest of you." Soon Father had selected 8 "guinea pigs", one of each of the eight natures of humanity with which God had peopled the Earth. He then began his experiment in earnest, a carefully calculated attempt of a most complex and delicate synthesis. The scattered multiplicity of human ego formations would be linked together once again, by the knowledge and power of Truth. Now in 12th year Siva Kalpa, 1977, I am happy to report that the synthesis is well underway. Many extremely arduous steps have been completed. The progressive manifestation is realizing itself among the rest of the Gods and Goddesses. Thank you, Father,

Your grateful human guinea pig, and semi-conscious Goddess,
MINERVA

Message From The Obsolete: The World will be perfect by the day after tomorrow; by then you will have ceased all judgement, and conquered all desire. You will be a Past Master in the Yoga of leaving things as they are. When that day comes, there will be no more messages from the Obsolete.

LETTER FROM LONDON * Rich Meyers

A Morning's Conversation:

-Morning, Luv. Cup of tea?

-Wouldn't say no.

-Would you fancy some bangers and mash with a bit of spam? I can give you a side order of chips. That's chips and bangers, spam on spam, mash and spam with a side order of chips. How's about spam and chips with toast, easy on the spam, or spam and chips, toast without spam.

-No, not hungry. Just tea and no spam at all. Seen the morning paper? Labor's bugging Parliament again. Riot on the soccer green at Wimpleton. Bank bottomed out on Fleet St. Common Market, you know. Another bomb scare in Belfast. They're removing darts and bingo from all Watney's pubs. Bloody hellawful. Suppose I will have some bangers after all. With a side of spam on spam and chips with spam. Forget the tea...

I'm walking past the guards at Buckingham Palace and down through St. James Park. The swans and pelicans on the pond are ruffling their feathers, preparing for winter. The leaves are falling from the trees and collecting under statues of Victoria and Lord Nelson. Businessmen in bowlers clear their path with umbrellas through the sea of pigeons in Trafalgar Square. Miles away in the Family world the children are launching their daily siege on MacFarlane, Hari is typing, Maggies I and II are cleaning about in their black stockings and heels, Regina and Jerri are shopping, Mick is probably just waking up on Ladbroke Grove, pulling up his suspenders and wondering where he left his chillum, and Simon Britton and Dermot are waiting for the pubs to open...

The mail this morning brought a beautiful letter from Connie Autori from N. Zealand. She seems settled and sensible in the new frontier. Tony spends hours rounding up sheep, works Tues.-Fri. at the Factory and other days with Family Foods. Work and projects seem to cure boredom, stop the nit-picking irritations. Australia sounds like the experimental pioneering part of the Empire, while England is the keeper of time and tradition in the western world. Speaking of Time and the Empire, the rulers seem weary, waiting for the Master Plan to be revealed, the new Magna Carta...

Yesterday Adrian and I were taken through the green rolling countryside of Worchestershire to Oxford, Blenheim Palace and Stratford-on-Avon. England is beautiful, particularly now with the changing season. However I never thought a son of mine, offspring of a lover of words, would throw a fit in the birthplace and home of Wm. Shakespeare.

FAMILY FOODS, INC. * D. Latourneau

In the past two months the amount of business the Family is doing with Family Foods has increased by 50%. As a consequence of this we have purchased a freezer which we hope to fill. We are also planning to open consistently on Saturdays to handle the increased business and to ease the load on Wednesdays. We now have Tony and Connie's pick-up truck, which is a great boon. Its primary use is for the co-op, but we also get a lot of hauling jobs, and these are available to Family Food members who want to work. (First choice for jobs goes to those who help us run the co-op!) As we move into our new schedule, we will keep Wednesdays much as they have been, and will use Saturdays to offer meat and selected produce from the country. On Saturday, October 15, we will be offering our first whole beef to the Family!

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS *****

Murphy Gardens continues to blossom despite the water shortage. The recent delivery of compost and wood chips (courtesy of the S. F. Community Garden Project) spurred us on to further improvements. The retaining wall on the top level is being rebuilt and additional terracing of the third level is contemplated. With upcoming City elections there is a heightened interest in government and politics running through the Village. The proposed expansion of Franklin Hospital with heliport and increased traffic is being vigorously opposed by neighborhood residents. Now the State Department of Health is considering whether the proposed additions to the hospital complex are really needed at all, and is holding a public hearing on the issue at McKinley School Auditorium on October 11 at 7 pm.

Notes From Calcutta * Shakti

Foundation of Revelation, Calcutta, is moving fine. It has been registered and will start functioning officially from the end of October, the month for the "DURGA PUJA FESTIVAL."

Maya will be out of Calcutta for about three weeks, touring Bombay, Hyderabad, Poona and Rajastan.

It is autumn in India. Nature is, as if, ready to welcome the "DURGA" -- the goddess who will be visiting her Father's place, the earth.

I close with eternal love, Shakti.

The Duboce Environmental Village Association, Inc., began its second year this past July with the election of new officers: Carolyn Cugini, President; Hal Kuchins, Vice-President; Annie (Meyers) Miller, Secretary; and Mary Nichols, Treasurer. Also on the Board of Directors is Glen Van Lehn, Bob Palmer, and Stephanie Hiller. Main activities have been utilizing Bicentennial Award funds ($8,000), gathering neighborhood support for the coming projects, and hosting local candidates for City Supervisor. Work on D.E.V.A. Park is continuing: a brick path and benches are planned to circle the ship, which is basically structurally complete. Picnic benches, fruit trees and a water fountain are in the plan, with future possibilities of better lighting, sidewalk trees, and closer relations with the City's Police and Traffic Departments. A program of speakers is planned on subjects of interest to all of us here in the Village.....Annie Miller

SIVA KALPA ENTERTAINMENT has formally been incorporated and chartered for operations in Los Angeles and San Francisco. Taxes have been paid, and four years of talking has brought another Family enterprise into material existence. Presently, a songbook is in the works and recording will begin soon. Songwriters, musicians and patrons can address inquiries to:
Hal Kuchins (for Siva Kalpa Entertainment)
 741 Waller St. San Francisco, Ca. 94117

The Foundation of Revelation Media Center, at 1161 Hayes St. (S.F., Ca. 94117), is ready to take orders for slide shows, black & white and color prints, tapes, and - soon - several Super-8 movies. A complete catalog of Media Center services is in preparation, and will be mailed to all Foundation centers. Meanwhile all inquiries will be promptly answered.....Victor & Patty Hamilton

Siva Kalpa and Criminal Justice

Robert Straubmeier, known to us as Bob Moore (and euphemistically as "Bank Job Bob"), was sentenced here on October 6 to ten years in Federal Prison. The positive influence of the Foundation of Revelation helped reduce this sentence from a possible 65 years to a maximum of ten. Bob spoke about the extraordinarily positive effect upon him by the Foundation, and this evidence was taken into consideration by the court. Bob loves Father, and our continuing support will help his possibilities for early parole.

Ernst Tibaldi, FBI agent assigned to this case, has assured me of our government's respect and appreciation of the Foundation's cooperation. The defense, parole and prosecuting forces, including the FBI, have the highest regard for our integrity.

The case of Bruce Erickson is a study in contrast. His resistance to honest communication with the Foundation of Revelation, following his indictment on sale-of-narcotics charges, has inspired very limited help from us. Without judging the merits of either case, it should be made clear that those who love Father and communicate honestly will be assured of our support.

This shows the Power of Truth over falsehood. The Family supports the positive, and leaves non-sense to its own demise.

As a personal message, I would like to add the following statement:
 Those Who love Father and Truth, these persons will succeed. All others:
 BEWARE.
