REPORT FROM HEADQUARTERS:

Dear Family -- B.S.B. and greetings! Good News. Richard, Philippe, Cherise and myself have spring in our hearts, and have begun our "spring cleaning" here in 65 #5. Order has begun. The main room, off the kitchen, has been established as the music room of Scott Street. It is very simple, with two flat beds, on a carpet (gift from Christina), an oval table, the stand of which is shaped like the veena, the instrument pictured with Saraswati. There is a stereo system for playing records to learn music and dance. Above the fire place is a picture of Siva, in who's honor I am creating this room. We were graced with Father's presence the evening of February 20th after our first musical dhuni, and listened to a pre-dawn to sunrise raga named "Raga Aheer Bhairow", played by Ali Akbar Khan, Sarod, and Mahapurush Misra, Tabla. It is a raga written in worship of Siva. And oddly enough, if I might add, the first one for me to hear and remember the melody.

Father sat between Sarada and myself and beat the rhythm on my knee. He first taught me how to play the tamboura during the musical rehearsals of "The Dance of Durga". I have recently asked him to teach me how to feel the rhythm as it is played on the tabla. In the forthcoming trip to India planned for May, as we gather our list of "goodies" to be brought back from there, I am requesting a tamboura, tablas, damaru, and a harmonium to be shipped, so that we may have the instruments with which to practice. In the interim, we shall be practicing here, with the instruments we have. Lou Gottlieb, who is now living in 53 Scott Street, is currently providing his home and his knowledge of music, together with Richard Bernet. I feel privileged and honored to have them teaching the art of music. The music room is open to anyone who feels to practice. Also, in the evenings, dancing is being practiced after dinner. Please call first when you feel to come. Thank you.

From The Publisher:

As you can see, we have again increased our size, now eight pages, in an effort to accommodate all the news and feelings from home and abroad, revealing the movement of Siva's imagination, waking up more and more in all his forms and forces. The two pages on the Australian Visa Affair are very interesting, just the beginning of the formal political world's growing awareness of the presence of gods and goddesses on the planet, as the ultimate source of revelation and reassurance for mankind. Father said it all when he first awoke over 12 years ago, and continues to remind us of the Real

PARIS, FRANCE

February 11, 12th Year

Dear John, Thank you for your letter. It arrived just for the departure of Philippe via London to S.F. And we had a nice feeling all together, really one with you.

You asked me for the sources of energy used in France. What I know is, besides the traditional coal and water for electricity, and wind, and the experimental nuclear, there is the solar source, with the first in the world experimental station in St. Louis (in the Pyrennees), and the "Usine Marée" in Brittany, using the energy of the tides. Also, a Frenchman is using recycled human dejections for heating and light. He stayed for five years in the U.S., and it is used by the Electricité de France now. Also geothermal heat pumps (the reverse system of the refrigerator, or how to heat with cold), and lots of other stuff called Alternative Energies. You are just in the center of California, so I am enclosing a little bibliography. Lots of people here are against nuclear power and for New Clear Power. I love what you do, you John, Anna Lynn, Nancy Collins -- it's a great support for the New Age. I will help the most I can. Waiting for the next issue of "The Light is Yours".

FRANÇOISE

The fur business has been well settled since a few weeks and John, Shanti, Gilles and I are taking care of the production with the great help of Francis and Roy Mionol, who worked in the fur too, before with Honore. It's going fine and we bought two machines, one for the leather and one for the fur and we should not have any problem to buy the fur as we get a few good connections already and some orders. This week we will get the licence for the sale. Right now, Marco takes care of it.

You may know that we gave our previous notice to leave the house of Villemomble by the end of April and with the entire family's agreement we finally imagined that what would please everybody the best is, first, to rent a house near the ocean, Mediterranean or Atlantic one, because many of the boys want to go fishing on a boat again, like in Marseille with the idea of building or buying a boat later and make a little restaurant where you can eat good fishes. And in the meantime, establish our crafts workshop. These two activities can be maintained more easily as we did have some experiences in the past and can bring us more independence. Winter is good for the fur and fishing in summer, while a crew prepare the crafts production for the next cold season which is the way to make it worth while. BSB.

CLAUDIE

(Editor's note: Here is a sweet letter from Candi Penn, dated January 4, which we'd like to include as a reminder of our beautiful family grouping up in Sebastopol, about an hour's drive from San Francisco.)

Thanksgiving at the Ranch started off the holiday season for many of us. A Christmas Faire at the Occidental Community Center was planned by Mary Voda, with food arranged by Gail Blum. Tom Sharkey as Santa Claus, crafts by Dick and Mary Voda, and astrological readings by Becky Barber were highlights.

Music reawakened at Eddie Harra's studio. The I.R.A. made a great tape, and Anon began recording a work tape, which will be added to by Eddie, Bill Penn, and others. Sport in the country continues, as John Barber jogs, and all join table tennis tournaments. Travel took many of us to San Francisco. The Capparo's went to Wisconsin, and upon return will stay with the Penns, and prepare their move to Hawaii. The Barbers visited the Los Angeles area and Las Vegas, to return with little Lee.

The Sharkeys and Penns are enjoying baby loka and all of us continue home improvements, preparing for the wet winter. Birthdays for Ian, Tom, Eddie & Tara were celebrated. New Year's Eve marked the culmination of a great season of cheer. Father, Shotsi, Micheal & Marjana (with her mother Toni) came up for a visit. Billy, Cecelia and Montezuma, Marilyn, Helen, Nicki, Anon & Susie, Hodge & Eileen, Colin & Ruby, Hope & Joshua, Josephine & Ashley, Bronwyn, and Mandy all made it up to join us ALL for a grand party at the Penns.

Revelations stemming from our wine and Christmas tree sales were heart-felt. The need for continuing support and understanding through the trials and mistakes of our exchanges reminds us of our highest aspirations. Our Love to All,

CANDI

Dear President Carter:

Since being elected you have proved yourself to be an honest concerned man, and I must thank you for the time you and your staff have taken to answer my frequent letters. The thought counts.

Recently the media has been carrying close coverage of your proposed fighter plane sales to Egypt. With the goal of achieving peace in the Middle East, I feel curious to ask you how arms sales will further peaceful aims... Without judging you personally, my logic leads me to believe that you and your defense department will then be accessories in premeditated murder, assuming that these planes take human lives. Please correct me if my assumptions are wrong, for I place my trust and hope in you, a God-Conscious man.

Your servant in Truth,

HAWEA FLAT, NEW ZEALAND

February 15, 12th Year

"The Light is Yours" is for sure a gift to universal communication, particularly in a situation like ours, where family activity is on a much smaller and slower level. Any divine news is welcome.

Things have been moving along pretty nicely in the last few months -- a lot of real pleasant movement and activities, moving towards deeper and more harmonious relationships, and generally getting together in order to present a consistently good feeling. We are in an area quite different from any other family situation. We've been in a farming- and tourist-type community, the farming side of it being older and quite conservative -- which can be quite frustrating to deal with, but can have its rewarding moments too. The tourist aspect is good as it brings in new people and changes, which are always welcome. The area we are living in is very beautiful -- mountains, lakes and riverside, and a great family playground.

Also, we came here after having the Foundation in Wellington, the capitol city, and realised that the feeling to have it there had died. A lot of our friends were leaving for overseas to seek their fortunes, and other friends seem to be momentarily scattered around, working out their own trips before realising, hopefully, where their real purpose lies. Also, living in a city where the government is, you are very aware of the heavy mortal contradictions that such institutions reek of. Only Time can resolve these, so instead of beating our heads against a stone wall of ignorance, we decided that more positive feedback amongst ourselves was most important.

Ultimately, when Sherry and I arrive back from our planned trip to America, our imagination is to create a village here, beginning with us all building a house together, then developing the pragmatics to become more self-sufficient -- a shop possibly, as Vicki makes quilts and clothing, myself, woodworking and photography, and Jamie taking over his mum's nursery, etc, etc -- divine talents have limitless possibilities.

One of the highlights was the birth of Sherry and my little god, Forrest Timothy Taylor, in the same hospital as I was born. He is beautiful beyond description, Father truly blesses us and the meaning of family grows stronger. There is so much to say, but it is not easy to be brief when there is love to be expressed. Anyway, I'll finish here, with all my love,

MICHAEL

THE SANDHUS IN AMERICA

by Stephanie Hiller

Raj and Chiranjit Sandhu and family, who hosted Father and entourage during the second and third visits to Calcutta, have been living in San Francisco since the beginning of 11th Year Siva Kalpa. Raj worked for a long time, with the help of the Foundation of Revelation, to bring her family here. They have just moved to a new home, a cosy three-bedroom house at 317 Santiago, in the Sunset district. There, they entertained Father and some 40 members of the family for a lively New Year's Eve celebration and house-warming party. An excellent five course Punjabi-style dinner was lovingly served to all the guests. Chiranjit has just passed the state exam for a contractor's license, which requires knowledge of all aspects of building construction. Harpreet, eldest son, has been awarded a fellowship at the University of California in Berkeley -- this month he takes up residence there to begin work on his Master's degree in engineering. Raj and daughter Amreet both work at secretarial jobs, and youngest son Rajpal attends highschool.

Siva, I'm a stupid man -- forgive me. You are my elder, yet I forgot your age. You are a wise man, yet I didn't recognise the fact. And you are holy because you give yourself to others. I love you. May the one who died for us and is resurrected to God be with you in every word and deed.

MEDITATIONS IN SILVER * M. EBELTOFT

The Silver Dollar is most often thought of as a medium of exchange, a collector's item, or even a piece of jewelry. It's common usage however, is only the pragmatic and physical significance of that item. I prefer to use the Silver Dollar as a mandala for seeking wisdom. Putting aside the physical, I see the symbolism portrayed as coming from God. The physical symbolism is all too readily used and accepted as the only symbolism. Think for a moment about the spiritual symbolism.

The outer edge of the Silver Dollar is a circle that never ends or begins. The circle symbolizes eternity and the never ending imagination of God constantly moving in perfect cycles of order. It is seen in the birth/rebirth of man and the changing seasons of nature. It is always circumscribing our flow in knowledge unending.

The word "Liberty" across the top of the Silver Dollar has a much greater aspect than physical freedom. It is the power of God, flowing through man, that allows the true liberty of Spirit. It causes man to stand before God of his own free will, and be accepted into the eternal bliss of becoming. It is the highest form of liberty that takes man from the ignorance of himself and lifts him to being God.

"In God We Trust" is the banner that crosses the Silver Dollar. When taken to it's literal meaning it is obvious that consciousness of that meaning gives us the "Liberty" we need and the way to manifest all of the Divine Plan of which we are a part. It is the password of every great minute of our lives and the strength of our being. It is "In God We Trust" in all things and at all times.

In the center is "the Goddess" and rightly so. She is the symbol of all the creative principles. By her nature, she conceives and delivers life onto the earth in perfect form and order. She is love personified as mother, sister, lover and friend. In all relationships she stands for the ideals of right and justice. She is the one who receives and conceives ideas and nurtures them into manifestation upon very plane. Appropriately enough "the Goddess" is crowned with radiance. It is the light of wisdom and feeling radiating for men to see and understand. She is the source and as such is loved and respected for her council. Her example is followed as the Way to Truth. In all she radiated Truth in it's feeling and creative forms. The "Goddess" looks straight ahead seeing nothing, for she knows all from within. Her composure demonstrates peace and harmony, knowing God, in His infinite becomings, as in each of us, He is dwelling at this moment and forever. Her mouth is speechless in the realization of Truth. She can tell no-one that Truth which can only be Known from within. The Silver Dollar is a mandala to those who seek Truth in it. Look deeply into it and new Truth will be revealed to you from the Source of All Knowledge, speaking directly to your heart.

Introducing ma kara and pa kara, मकर and पकर, as they appear in the devanagari script, kara being the name of the characters themselves, as in omkara, ॐ कर, the making or continuing of the sound AUM (the Primal Sound of Creation!), have presented themselves first. They are the sounds that Dr. Maximum Resonance discovered to correspond with the heart and throat chakras, in his innovative and adventurous explorations of music. Ma and pa share the common honor of being "labials". They differ in that ma is voiced and pa is voiceless (metaphysical implications are up to you). The Foundation Library  Sandra Stai

It is possible now to increase our memory and knowledge through all the Divine tapes and books that are in the Foundation's possession. We have at our disposal an ideal room, behind the office, that, through the pragmatic energy of collective purpose, could be transformed into a Divine Library.

Come, contribute your time, paint brushes, books, tables, lamps and Divine Energy.

As I was coming down the street
The sun was nearly hot
I saw in form Bill Kitchen standing
Right at Lloyd and Scott.

I asked him for some words to print
To pick words True and Nice
He said: "THE COSMOS CAME AWAKE;
YOU'RE AT THE CORE OF LIFE".

I said please bring that down to earth,
At least the closest stars.
He said: "IF CHRIST HAD QUARTERS
HE COULD RIDE THE CABLE CARS".

" THE JOURNEY THAT NEVER WAS MADE "

On the evening of Wednesday, February 22nd at 9:40 P.M. Father, Caroline and Jonathan did not go to Australia. The apparent reason was the denial of our application for visas by the Australian Consulate, and that story is told in the following exchange of letters. The real reasons, like all real reasons, were many and wonderful. Firstly, I had forgotten in part that the purpose of any trip with Father is service to Him, to the family and to the world. Therein lies the enjoyment. Secondly, the Australian family was pressed in time and money to have us come this year. Thirdly, the nature of the present Australian government was revealed quite fully and something will obviously be done to hasten their evolution by awareness of the existence of Father and the Foundation of Revelation. Fourthly, if Danny hadn't called in reply to my telegram, we would not have known that Ganga and he had a baby boy, Kim Vayu on Thursday, Feb. 9.

Ganga, it is time for us to get out of Siva's hair and nourish the planet with the knowledge of His existence.

Dear Ms. Grey,

I refer to your application for a visa for entry to Australia for you and your son. This application has been carefully and sympathetically considered, but I am sorry to tell you that we are unable to approve it.

The reasons for the refusal of an application for an Australian visa are confidential to this office and are not made known to the applicant or to any other person.

The Foundation of Revelation
59 Scott Street, San Francisco
February 13, 1978

Dear Mr. Bareham,

On Friday, February 10 I applied for tourist visas for myself, my son Jonathan and Mr. Ciranjiva Roy to visit friends in Australia for one month. Because Mr. Roy is the minister for the Foundation of Revelation, Inc., a world-wide spiritual organization, we were interviewed by Mr. Duncan. Due to the nature of Mr. Duncan's questions I feel I did not fully represent the position and function of the Foundation and somehow I created a misunderstanding of our work and activities. The Foundation was incorporated in San Francisco in January of 1970 as a basis from which to serve the community, the country and the world at large. Since then Foundation headquarters have been organized in Los Angeles, Littleton, Co., Minneapolis and Rochester, N.Y. in this country and in Australia, England, France, Belgium, Holland and India by members of those respective countries. Individually we are dedicated to improving social, economic and political conditions in our respective communities. As an international association we have contributed to the improvement of international relations by hosting people from all over the world and providing a basis for mutual appreciation of and respect for the diverse cultures of the world.

In the winter of 1976 we organized a Food Co-operative to serve our neighborhood, not just those people belonging to our organization, but all our neighbors. Our purpose was to provide good produce at reasonable prices and a convenient location. In two years we have increased our assets several hundred percent and are expanding our service. In the spring of the same year we organized a neighborhood association, the Duboce Environmental Village Association, to improve neighborhood conditions and gain a voice in local government. In June we were granted $4500 by the Neighborhood Initiative Improvement Project to build a play structure in our local park. In August we were commended by the San Francisco Beautiful Association for our work in turning a vacant lot into a neighborhood garden. In October we were awarded an additional $8,000 by the Bicentennial Awards Committee to continue our work in the parks. Individually we have improved the buildings we live in and have upgraded conditions in our neighborhood, which was a near slum when we began our work eight years ago.

During the summer of 1976 we hosted approximately two hundred visitors from England, France, Belgium, Holland, Australia and India for three months, including parents of our members from the respected business community. All expressed their deep appreciation for our hospitality and issued invitations for us to visit them in their respective countries. Among our guests were Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Brock, parents of the Australian race car champion, Peter Brock. In the spring of 1975 Mr. Roy visited Australia with the Foundation President, Charlotte P. Wallace, and returned with high praise for the warm and industrious nature of the Australians he met.

Mr. Duncan asked at some length my opinions on drugs which I answered truthfully. Neither myself nor Mr. Roy personally, nor the Foundation as a whole has any involvement in drug traffic or drug legislation. I expressed my personal views on the subject but I am not personally dedicated to this particular problem. We have helped many people suffering from drug related problems as well as marital, financial and social problems since these are what we are all faced with at this time. I can provide you with corroboration of our activities from Mr. Peter Ashe, Director of Recreation for the city of San Francisco, State Assemblyman Willie Brown and City Supervisor, Harvey Milk. Further information can be obtained from Ms. Wallace here in San Francisco at the above address and phone number and from Mrs. Daniel Hennenberg, President of the Australian Foundation, 854 Toorak Road, East Hawthorn, Victoria, Australia.

Our tickets were pre-paid, sixty days in advance by the Australian Foundation and are not subject to change of date. Our departure is scheduled for February 22, so I would appreciate hearing your decision or request for further information as soon as possible. I have cabled the Australian Foundation about our problem, so you should be hearing from them as well.

Thank you for your attention. I hope this helps resolve whatever misapprehensions you may have received about our organization. We are not affiliated with nor resemble in any way such organizations as the Unification Church, the Hare Krishnas, etc., and it is our sincerest aspiration to create and maintain good relations with whomever we associate. I hope this will give you grounds to reconsider our applications, as our inability to travel to Australia will greatly disappoint those who visited us here and invited us to your country.

Yours sincerely,
Caroline A. Grey

Dear Ms. Grey,

We have received your letter dated 13 February 1978. The decision conveyed in our letter of 10 February 1978 has not been varied.

Yours sincerely,
G.E. Bareham
Consul-Immigration

(Editor's note: On February 17th, after a phone conversation with a Mr. Duncan who was answering for Mr. Bareham at the Australian Consulate, John Morton called the following people on behalf of Caroline Grey: State Assemblyman Willie Brown, Senator Alan Cranston, Herb Caen of the San Francisco Chronicle, San Francisco City Supervisor Harvey Milk, Congressman John Burton, State Senator Milton Marks. Those who could be reached were kind to look into the matter, but all responded that there was very little that could be done through the American government at this time. It was definitely Australia's decision and they said "NO". Two phone conversations with Danny Hennenberg revealed that he had contacted a minister of the "shadow government" in Australia but could get no immediate relief. The following letter completes the file on this matter to date.)

Civil Aeronautic Board Dear Sirs:

Our clients Mr. C. Roy, Miss C. Grey and her son were not able to use their $2,400 tickets issued by Pan American in San Francisco and pre-paid in Melbourne because our clients were not allowed visas into Australia. They applied two weeks before their departure date and were not given a reason for the denial. There was no reason to believe that Mr. Roy and his companions would not be granted visas as he traveled to Melbourne in the spring of 1975. I appreciate your looking into this injustice.

RETURN TO PARADISE

A man travels the world over in search of what he needs and returns home to find it. I moved amid the European continent with my companion Ulysses, from the foundations of the North to Budapest, Sicily, thousands of miles, only to find the real movement at home in the six square blocks we call the Village. That movement is the blissful feeling that pervades and transforms everything and it is most powerful here. Here is where the memory of God moves most swiftly through relationships moving the weight of negative mortal feelings that hover over the old world of Europe. Five months of geographical movement returns one to an ability to measure the changes back home. Five brief months has produced an age of practical miracles, order and activity everywhere. My own spirit feels the increased will to embrace it all in this new resurgent period. So home again, blissfully at large, I am still spinning in the travel lag, the luminous circles of inspired changes you have created.
